

Forrest Tuff

Forrest Tuff is the visionary leader and CEO of One Vision Productions, an award-winning, multimedia agency that specializes in corporate and government video production, photography, drone services, and graphic design. Its clientele ranges from small businesses to Fortune 100 companies has been named one of Atlanta's "Best and Brightest Companies to Work For" (2015-2019).

An advocate for servant leadership, Tuff is a pro bono business mentor with SCORE, Business and Industry Advisory Council Member for Paul Duke STEM High School, and Ambassador for the American Heart Association. He received a Leadership Certificate from BoardSource and is a United Way VIP and FBI Citizens Academy Alumnus.

Armed with a desire to impact the community, Tuff created a Pay It Forward initiative, which is annually donated to a nonprofit organization. In addition, he has been recognized by the NAACP as a nominee for the Thurgood Marshall Award and honored with the U.S. Attorney's Office Community Outreach Award, Martin Luther King Drum Major for Service Award, and President's Call to Service Award - completing more than 5,000 hours of community service.

On the creative side, Tuff is an accomplished author and filmmaker. His children's book, "Things I Like 3-D", was nominated for the 46th Georgia Author of the Year Award by The Georgia Writers Association. A self-taught, multi award-winning filmmaker, Tuff has 100+ movie credits to include indie films, documentaries, and a major motion picture with 20th Century Fox.

An empowerment speaker, Tuff shares his life experiences with the hope of motivating others to pursue their dreams. He connects to audiences by engaging them with his enthusiasm and transparency. He was voted among the "Top 100 Transformational Leaders" by the John Maxwell Team and named "Toastmaster of the Year."

Tuff has been featured in Business Leader Magazine, CORP! Magazine, and Voyage ATL, to name a few. He was a 2018 "Inspiritor" nominee for the Turknett Leadership Character Award, recipient of the Georgia Minority Business Award, and the JABY Inc. International Trailblazer Award. In 2019, Tuff was named a BE Modern Man of Distinction by Black Enterprise.